Twenty-seven seniors will make their final home appearance of the year today against the University of Michigan. Some of those seniors have been three year starters. Others have never started. Some, like Kurt Schumacher, Neal Colzie, Van DeCree and Pete Cusick, have earned All-American and all-Big Ten honors. Others are lesser known. All, however, have contributed significantly to the Ohio State program. It has been a class that has brought great honor to The Ohio State University. It is a class that will certainly be missed. To those twenty-seven young men, this Program is dedicated with our thanks.

BEFORE THE GAME

By Steve Snapp
Assistant Sports Information Director

Sometime last August the experts predicted it: the Ohio State-Michigan game on November 23 would determine the Big Ten football title.

Well, the soothsayers were right. It's November 23 and today's nationally televised contest between the Buckeyes and Wolverines will decide the conference championship and the Rose Bowl representative.

A victory for once beaten Ohio State, currently 9-1 overall and 6-1 against Big Ten opponents, would give the Buckeyes a share of the crown and the possibility of a third straight Bowl appearance, depending upon a vote of the Big Ten Athletic Directors.

Should unbeaten Michigan, 10-0 on the year and 7-0 in the conference, either tie or win today's meeting, the Wolverines would own the championship outright and be Pasadena bound.

The importance surrounding today's game is nothing new. For six of the past seven years, excluding 1971, Ohio State and Michigan have decided the Big Ten title in their annual season finale. Predicting that this game will be significant is as safe as forecasting smog in Los Angeles or a capacity crowd in Ohio Stadium on a football Saturday. It has become that much of a certainty.

Predicting a winner is a little riskier, however. These two teams have staged some classic confrontations since they began their two-way duel for supremacy in 1968.

Ohio State won that first one 50-14 to claim its first Big Ten title since 1961. The victory paved the way for a Rose Bowl win over Southern California and a National Championship for coach Woody Hayes' sophomore dominated team.

The next year, 1969, Bo Schembechler wound up his first season as Michigan's coach with a 24-12 upset over the Buckeyes in Ann Arbor. It was one of the great upsets of all times because Ohio State had reeled off a string of 18 consecutive wins and was being hailed as one of the great football teams ever. But the Wolverines snuffed out such talk and came away with a share of the crown that day.

The Buckeyes got the undisputed title back in 1970 with a 20-9 win in which quarterback Rex Kern put his team ahead to stay with a 26 yard touchdown pass to split end Bruce Jankowski. Rex never saw the winning touchdown. He was flat on his back after being dropped to the Ohio Stadium turf by a Michigan defender.

After the "off-year" in 1971, the two teams renewed their struggle in 1972 in a game that has to rate as one of the most memorable ever in Ohio Stadium. A freshman by the name of Archie Griffin raced 30 yards for a touchdown to give the Buckeyes a 14-11 lead and the Buckeye defense made the slim three-point margin stand up with three brilliant goal line stands. The game left both teams with identical 7-1 records and another co-championship.

Last year's meeting resulted in yet another set of co-title holders. Both the Buckeyes and the Wolverines took unbeaten records into the Ann Arbor shoot out, but when the smoke had cleared the result was a 10-10 tie that spoiled any hopes of a national championship for either team.

That sets the stage for today's game. Like its predecessors, this one shapes up as another struggle between two superb teams. Only a 16-13 loss at Michigan State spoils the Ohio State ledger and the Buckeyes boast an offense that has scored an average of 40 points a game. Michigan has been equally impressive in brushing aside its first ten opponents and the Wolverines are coming off a 51-0 drubbing of Purdue last week.

"Ohio State and Michigan is the greatest rivalry in college football," says coach Woody Hayes, who owns a 14-8-1 record against the Wolverines. "I know of no other game in America that can equal this one."

Today is the 71st gridiron meeting between the Buckeyes and Wolverines. The two teams have met consecutively since 1918.

Back of the Week

CHAMP HENSON—FULLBACK—Rushed for 78 yards and scored three touchdowns last week in the Buckeyes' 35-10 win over Iowa. The Ashville senior now has 35 career touchdowns placing him second on Ohio State's all-time scoring list, just two touchdowns shy of Howard Cassady's record 37. Has eleven TD's this year to rank second on the team and has rushed for 421 yards in 84 attempts.

Specialist of the Week

TOM KLABAN—KICKER—Converted five of five extra points last week and in doing so established a one season record for conversions with 50. Has missed just one PAT this season and has hit on four of six field goal tries for 62 total points, third highest total on the team. Leads the Big Ten in kick scoring and ranks in the top ten nationally. The junior soccer style kicker from Cincinnati hit on 36 straight PAT's this year before missing against Northwestern.

MICHIGAN OFFENSE

MICHIGAN PLAYERS TO WATCH

DENNIS FRANKLIN — QUARTERBACK — The key to the Wolverines' offense. Has been bothered by an ankle injury this season which has limited his playing time. Still has completed 53 of 90 passes for 837 yards and seven touchdowns. Has also run for 279 yards and scored three touchdowns on the ground. A senior from Massillon, Franklin is starting his third year as a regular. The 6-1, 180-pounder accounted for 955 yards total offense last year and was an all-Big Ten selection.

STEVE STRINKO — LINEBACKER — A senior from Middletown who leads Michigan in tackles with 93, including 63 solo stops. Earned all-Big Ten honors last year when he set a school record with 137 tackles. Calls defensive signals for the Wolverines. Michigan coaches consider him an all-American candidate this season. Was a high school all-American at Lemon Monroe High School. At 6-3 and 235, he is one of the hardest hitters on the Wolverine squad.

HENSON SCORING LESS AND ENJOYING IT MORE

Champ Henson led the nation's major colleges in scoring as a sophomore. That was in 1972 when the big Buckeye fullback blasted his way into the end zone twenty times to set a Big Ten single season touchdown record.

This year Henson, who played in just two games last year before suffering a knee injury that required surgery and forced him to miss the Buckeyes' last nine games, probably won't even lead Ohio State in scoring, but the curly haired senior considers himself a better football player today than he was during his record setting 1972 campaign.

"I was strictly a runner my sophomore year," evaluates Henson, who because of last year's injury may petition for an additional year of eligibility if he so chooses. "This season I think I am a more complete player. I know I block better and I think I am faking better too. I really feel like I am contributing more this year and that's a nice feeling."

Ohio State coach Woody Hayes agrees one hundred per cent.

"Champ has developed into a complete back this year," says Woody. "His blocking is much better now than it was in 1972 and that makes him much more valuable to our offense."

"And don't forget he can still pick up those tough yards when we need them," adds the Buckeye boss. "In fact, Champ is one of the finest goal line runners I have ever coached. It's just that with our versatility on offense this year we haven't run the fullback as often."

With tailback Archie Griffin and quarterback Cornelius Greene in the Buckeyes' backfield, Henson's workload has been reduced this year. It has been further diminished by the emergence of sophomore Pete Johnson who up until last week shared the starting fullback role with Henson.

Still Henson has managed to compile some impressive statistics through the first ten games of the season. The former Ashville Teays Valley standout has rushed for 421 yards so far and has a noteworthy 5.0 yard per carry average. He also has 11 touchdowns on the season, giving him a career total of 35, just two short of Howard Cassady's all-time high 37.

Henson's top game this year came against Michigan State when the 6-3, 230-pounder slammed through the Spartan defense for 91 tough yards, albeit in a 16-13 losing effort. After the MSU game, coach Hayes declared "Champ" is our starter from here on out. He has proven to me that he deserves the job."

Getting the starting assignment back on a regular basis had a special meaning for Henson. He had dedicated himself to that goal following his knee injury last September. There were times, however, when the prospects didn't appear too encouraging. Last spring is a good example.

"I had a terrible spring practice," he recalls. "My leg was still weak from being in a cast and I was afraid to cut on it or be hit. You can't play very well in that frame of mind and Pete just played so well in the spring that he was obviously our best fullback."

Henson worked diligently during the summer to build up his leg and his confidence. He had pretty well accomplished both tasks when he suffered a setback in late July.

"I was driving home from work one night when a truck pulled out in front of me," he recalls. "I hit it broadside and almost demolished the car."

Champ wasn't seriously hurt in the collision, but he was too banged up to begin work on his pre-season conditioning program and fall practice was only six weeks away.

"It threw off my time schedule," he says. "I had planned to work out extensively the last six weeks of summer, but the accident kept me pretty well idle for about four weeks."

Henson did get in two weeks of physical training before the beginning of the fall session, but when practice opened it was apparent he was behind the other players.

"Champ just wasn't ready when we began practice," reflects coach Hayes. "It was obvious that he had missed a lot of work."

But all that is behind Henson now. He made up for lost time in a hurry and is playing the best football of his career as he enters today's game with the University of Michigan.

Champ Henson went into the 1974 season hoping to prove to himself that he could still help the team. He knows it now and so does everyone else who has seen Ohio State play this year.

Champ Henson builds up a head of steam as he gets set to take the hand-off from quarterback Cornelius Greene. Henson is the Buckeyes' third leading rusher this season with 421 yards.

SUCCESSFUL FALL FOR BUCKEYE WOMEN

The Women's Swimming Team made a big splash with a 69-53 win over Denison earlier this month.

Golfer Cindy Post is one of five veteran players on the Women's Golf Team.

Field Hockey has plenty of action for Buckeye female athletes.

The Women's Volleyball Team compiled a 28-8 record this year.

Women's intercollegiate athletics has enjoyed a remarkable period of nationwide growth in recent years. Nowhere has that growth been more evident than here at The Ohio State University where eleven varsity sports are offered for interested female athletes during the school year.

Four of those sports — volleyball, field hockey, golf and competitive swimming — are offered during the Fall Quarter and a look at their respective records this past season reflects the excellence of the OSU women's program.

Volleyball, coached by Sue Collins, led the way with an excellent 22-8 record during the regular season. To add some frosting to the cake, Miss Collins' team then captured the State Tournament at Dayton with an unblemished 6-0 record for an overall 30-8 record.

That is the best record ever for the women's volleyball team which owns a two-year mark of 47-17 under Miss Collins.

Field Hockey, a varsity sport since 1941, finished with a 12-3-1 record and led by Barb Wetters, a senior from Worthington, and Dayton sophomore Ann Wilson, outscored the opposition by a lopsided 37-11 margin.

Miss Wetters was the leading scorer for coach Harriet Reynolds' team with 23 goals. She also was one of eight Buckeye players named to this weekend's sectional Selection Tournament at Ohio Wesleyan. Players from that tournament are then chosen for the Great Lakes team which competes in the National Tournament later this month.

The golf team competed in four tournaments and posted a record of 26 wins and four losses. At Illinois State, the Buckeye ladies finished third in a 16 team field; later they closed out their season by taking the runnerup spot in the 12-team University of Michigan Tournament. With five regulars returning, coach Sue Collins eagerly awaits Spring quarter and the second half of the team's divided schedule.

The swimming team began its season Nov. 16 with a convincing 69-53 win over Denison. Coach Linda Hall's squad is coming off a 4-1 dual meet record last season and with a flock of veterans returning, the prospects for this season are bright. Among the returnees is junior Ann Emmenecker, who holds the Big Ten record in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events. Also back is diver Debbie Wilson, one of the top female divers in the country.

It's a good overall program and it is getting better according to Phyllis Bailey, associate director of women's intercollegiate at Ohio State.

"Women athletes are eager to compete and to be involved," she said. "It is our pledge to provide them with a program that is worthy of their skills. We feel we are doing that now and will continue to work to improve."

OHIO STATE FOOTBALL COACH – "WOODY HAYES"

W. W. "Woody" Hayes has been head football coach at The Ohio State University for 23 years. During this period Ohio State football has achieved a degree of excellence unmatched in the University's rich athletic history.

Hayes ranks second among all active major college coaches for most victories, 192. Only Paul "Bear" Bryant has won more. Woody is within eight of the coveted 200 victory total, a milestone reached by only a few college coaches, past or present.

Hayes was born February 14, 1913, at Clifton, Ohio, although he calls Newcomerstown his home. He is a 1935 graduate of Denison University, where he majored in English and history. He played tackle three years and was an outfielder in baseball. He has an M.A. degree from Ohio State in education administration.

His entire coaching career has been within the state of Ohio. He began in 1935 as an assistant at Mingo Junction. His first head coaching job came in 1938 at New Philadelphia High, where, in three seasons, his teams won 19, lost ten and tied one.

A five year stint in the Navy interrupted his coaching career but made a great impact upon his life.

After his discharge, Denison University, his alma mater, gave him his first opportunity to be a head coach in college. The year was 1946. Three years at Denison and two at Miami set the stage for his 1951 debut at Ohio State.

Hayes' record at Ohio State is a remarkable 159 wins, 49 losses and eight ties, a winning percentage of .764, excluding ties. His Buckeye teams have won nine Big Ten championships, six outright and three shared. His Big Ten record is 117-32-7. Since he has coached at Ohio State, the Buckeyes have led the nation in attendance per home game for 21 of the last 23 years.

Numerous honors have been won by Coach Hayes and by his Ohio State teams. He was named "College Coach of the Year" in 1957, and was runnerup for this honor on two other occasions. His teams have won three national championships; won a record 17 straight Big Ten victories two different times (1954-56 and 1967-69); and four Rose Bowl victories. He is past president of the National Football Coaches' Association.

Woody's around-the-clock devotion to football is without parallel. His work-week is seven days and more often than not his daily schedule extends past midnight. Such grueling demands would overwhelm a person 25 years his junior.

Woody has written three books about football, each with a different approach. He has made four trips to Vietnam to talk and visit with service men.

If he has a hobby outside of football it would be history. All periods interest him. Military history holds a special fascination.

He shrugs off mention of relinquishing his coaching duties by saying, "I'll do something else when I find a job I like better." The word "retirement" is not in his vocabulary.

The three qualities that best characterize Woody Hayes are honesty, hard-work and a love of teaching. The latter comes naturally as his father, Wayne Benton Hayes, served as superintendent of schools from 1920 until his death in 1939.

Woody Hayes is many things to many people. He is an era in himself. He is colorful, impatient, unpredictable, generous and unselfish, highly individualistic and deeply patriotic. His coaching career has enjoyed many more peaks than valleys. Success always has been within reach, but controversy is never far away.

As the billboard reads, "In all the world there is only one."

MICHIGAN BAND PROGRAM

George Cavender
Michigan Band Director

In today's pre-game show, the University of Michigan band will make an end zone entry and dissolve to a Block M for the opening M Fanfare. The band will then move to mid-field playing Michigan's fight song, the Victors, and will then salute Ohio State University with a special arrangement of the Buckeye fight song. The theme song from the TV show "Ironside" will lead to the pre-game "special," a routine featuring 60 cornets and trumpets as they do the "guillotine" to the "Midnight Special."

Half-time with the Michigan Band will center on nostalgia and the great hits of the thirties. The show will open in a formation of the Taj Mahal as a featured twirler does a knife-twirling exhibition while the trombones play the Tommy Dorsey arrangement of "Song of India." Next, thirty U. of M. clarinets will move forward along with the Michigan Pom Pom girls as the band dances to Benny Goodman's theme song, "Let's Dance."

In 1974 one of the great jazz drummers of all time passed away, namely, Gene Krupa. It was 1956 that Mr. Krupa appeared with the Michigan Marching Band in a guest appearance on the gridiron which was to set patterns for years to come. Mr. Krupa is saluted today by the percussion section's arrangement of "Sing, Sing, Sing." The show will close with a musical salute to the late Duke Ellington as the U. of M. band plays "Take the 'A' Train."

GRIFFIN CLOSING IN ON OWN BIG TEN RUSHING RECORD

What does Archie Griffin do after he has made shambles of everyone else's rushing records? He starts breaking some of his own.

That could be the case here today if the Buckeye All-American can pick up 69 yards against the University of Michigan defense. Griffin goes into this afternoon's game with 1509 yards on the ground after ten games. An additional 69 would allow the junior tailback to surpass the Big Ten one season standard of 1577 which he set last year.

On the surface, Griffin's chances would appear excellent. The 5-9, 185-pound Heisman Trophy candidate has rushed for 100 or more yards in 21 consecutive games now and has been held below the century figure just eight times during his fabulous career with the Buckeyes. He currently leads the Big Ten in rushing and ranks second nationally with an average of over 150 yards per game. Even more impressive is the Columbus native's 7.1 yards per attempt average. And he has done it all playing an average of just over 22 minutes a game.

Griffin is no novice at breaking records. Since breaking into the Ohio State lineup as a freshman he has twice set single game rushing records, including 246 yards against Iowa in 1973. He also holds the Ohio State one season rushing record in addition to the Big Ten mark and is both the Buckeye and the Big Ten career rushing leader. His string of 21 games over 100 yards is an NCAA record and has to rank as one of the great sports accomplishments of all times.

Ohio State coach Woody Hayes has labeled Griffin as the best back in Ohio State history.

"There is simply no better back in America," claims Woody. "The statistics prove that. I have never had a player who could do so many things for our offense."

Good football teams don't just happen. They are the result of long hours of hard work and preparation.

At Ohio State much of that preparation falls to a dedicated staff of assistant coaches who work with head coach Woody Hayes to mold the Buckeyes' fortunes.

During the season, the OSU assistants frequently spend an average of 15 hours a day getting ready for an upcoming opponent. That gruelling schedule starts in mid August and runs through November and sometimes December.

In the off-season it's speeches, clinics, banquets and recruiting trips.

Let's meet the Buckeye assistants.

Esko Sarkkinen is the senior member of the Ohio State staff. A former All-American end on the Buckeyes' 1939 Big Ten championship team, he began coaching at OSU in 1946. He currently serves as defensive end coach.

Sarkkinen has been in charge of the Buckeye scouting program since 1951 and has long been thought of as one of the top scouts in college football.

Ralph Staub is the football recruiting coordinator and coach of the offensive ends and tackles. He joined the Buckeyes in 1970 after five years at the University of Cincinnati and one year at Northwestern.

The popular Staub is a native of Cincinnati. He attended the University of Cincinnati and was an end on the Bearcats powerful teams of 1949, '50 and '51. He captained the UC team his senior season and received his degree in 1952.

MICHIGAN COACH BO SCHEMBECHLER

Glenn E. (Bo) Schembechler is Michigan's 13th head football coach, and seldom have the Wolverines shown such winning consistency over the years as they have under this intense, exacting graduate of Miami of Ohio.

In five seasons at Michigan his teams have won 89 per cent of their games and his career record spanning 11 years is a remarkable .792, ranking third among all active college coaches in winning percentage. Going into the 1974 season, Schembechler would have to look back to 1969 as the last time one of his teams lost in Michigan Stadium. His teams have lost just one conference game in three years and have had only three league defeats in five seasons.

The undefeated 1973 season and co-championship have added to Bo's credentials at Michigan that show:

- 48 wins, 6 defeats,
- 4 Big Ten titles,
- 28 straight home victories,
- Top Ten ranking every season.

Meanwhile, Bo has been voted national Coach of the Year (1969) and the Big Ten's Coach of the Year (1972) as he compiled the best winning percentage of any Michigan football coach since 1900 (.889).

Schembechler brought a solid football background to Michigan. In his six seasons as head football coach at Miami of Ohio his teams posted a 40-17-3 overall record, and a 27-8-1 record in the Mid-American Conference. His teams won two MAC co-championships, finished second twice and tied for third once. He has never coached a losing team.

Schembechler was the fourth straight head coach at Miami to take over a Big Ten team. Woody Hayes (Ohio State), Ara Parseghian (Northwestern), and John Pont (Indiana, Northwestern), coached Miami teams since 1949. He replaced Bump Elliott, now Iowa's Athletic Director, as head coach at Michigan and is only the fourth head coach of the Wolverines since Fritz Crisler was appointed in 1938.

Voted MAC Coach of the Year in 1965 and Ohio Coach of the Year in 1966, Bo engineered upsets of Northwestern in 1964 (28-27) and Indiana in 1966 (20-10).

Schembechler, who graduated from Miami in 1951 and received a master's degree in education from Ohio State in 1952, has an extensive coaching background. He started as a graduate assistant under Hayes at Ohio State in 1951, then served two years in the Army.

He was a line coach at Presbyterian College in 1954, a line coach at Bowling Green in 1955, and joined Parseghian's staff at Northwestern in 1956. Schembechler rejoined Hayes at Ohio State in 1958 and served five seasons as line coach before taking over the head job at Miami in 1963.

The former Barberton, Ohio prep all-stater was an offensive tackle at Miami for three years, playing under George Blackburn and Hayes. He also was an outstanding lefthanded pitcher for Miami. He was a teammate and roommate of John Pont on the 1950 Miami football team.

Building an organization is much like building a football team. You secure key personnel and use good coaching and concentrate on the fundamentals of the game, progress will appear and championship form can be attained.

Here in our agencies, we have key personnel who have done a great job of recruiting quality men and women. Pictured on this page are some of the key personnel who do an excellent job of coaching and guiding our agents into becoming successful, established career life underwriters. This is a career lifetime opportunity. Qualified individuals may be promoted to management. If you are a person who has a competitive background, has been serious about success and truly desires a career — not a job — why not call Mike Murray, C.L.U. or Jerry Porter, the coaches of The Equitable Agencies in Columbus, Ohio.

Underdog Role Leaves President Undaunted

EDITOR'S NOTE: President Gerald R. Ford, a center-linebacker on the 1932-33-34 football teams at the University of Michigan, often has drawn parallels between politics and athletics. As a freshman congressman, House Minority Leader and now President, he has maintained, "Thanks to my football experience, I know the value of team play. It is, I believe, one of the most important lessons to be learned and practiced in our lives."

Gerald Ford knew he faced a challenge. The scouting reports by the Michigan coaches left little doubt that Minnesota would be the finest team the Wolverines would meet all season. And the Gophers were a running team, a fact that particularly concerned him.

Six-foot-two and a deceptive 198 pounds, Ford was Michigan's linebacker and center. His prime assignment that Saturday against Minnesota would be to help contain the running of all-America Pug Lund and Stan Kostka, a sophomore sensation at fullback.

Ford had played on Michigan's two national championship teams of 1932 and 1933, but now in his senior year the Wolverines were struggling with just one victory in four games. The Gophers, headed directly for the Big Ten title, were four to five touchdown favorites.

The unbeaten Gophers had not defeated the Wolverines in Minneapolis in 41 years, and the Twin Cities were alive with a week-long battle cry of "Mangle Michigan." A record 60,000 fans turned out to watch their Gophers end that long era of frustration.

Michigan's Blitz

Michigan's defense, however, with Ford and his linebacking mate Cefric Sweet playing inspired football, continually stopped the Minnesota attack by using the new technique of blitzing. Surprisingly, the half ended in a scoreless tie.

"I knew how good they were," recalled Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan's assistant coach who had scouted the Gophers. "They were heavy favorites and when I walked into the dressing room at halftime, I had tears in my eyes I was so proud of them. Ford and Sweet played their hearts out. They were everywhere on defense."

Minnesota eventually won that game, 34-0, and went on to the national championship, but that cold November afternoon in Memorial Stadium has remained very special for Ford.

"During 25 years in the rough-and-tumble world of politics, I often thought of the experiences before, during and after that game in 1934," Ford says. "Remembering them has helped me many times to face a tough situation, take action and make every effort possible despite adverse odds.

President Gerald R. Ford

"I remember how Michigan students and people in Ann Arbor met us at the train station that Sunday. There was a rousing parade and this was a meaningful tribute to the fight the Wolverines had put up against Minnesota."

His teammates also paid Ford a meaningful tribute that season. Michigan won just one game, but Ford was voted the Wolverines most valuable player. As Francis Wistert, an all-America who played with Ford on two championship teams, later was to observe, "They felt Jerry was one guy who would stay and fight in a losing cause."

Rich Blood

Michigan coach Harry Kipke recruited Ford with the promise of a job. He waited on tables and cleaned up dishes at the University Hospital, washed dishes at his fraternity house and later became manager of the DEKE House. "I also was able to sell blood at $25 a bottle twice a month and that money came in mighty handy," said Ford of those depression years.

Ford played in the East-West Shrine and College All-Star games and received offers from two professional football teams. The young economics major, however, decided to study law, and Kipke helped him obtain a coaching job on the Yale football staff.

"I was an assistant line coach and also head coach of the junior varsity," Ford offered. "And we had some pretty fine young men on that JV team, too. Bob Taft and Bill Proxmire, both now U.S. Senators, played on my JV team and later on the Yale varsity."

President Ford received a law degree at Yale in 1941, served four years in the Navy, then in 1948 started his political career by upsetting the incumbent Republican representative in Michigan's Fifth Congressional District. Again, he had faced long odds against success, but as his teammates knew years before, Jerry Ford was never intimidated by a challenge.

Recreation and Intramurals Move Up In The Polls

Long recognized for its football leadership, Ohio State also is aiming for the No. 1 ranking in physical education, recreation and intramural sports facilities. A projected $10 million University Activities Center soon will make that goal a reality on the Columbus campus.

The UAC complex will consist of an addition to the west and south sides of the existing Physical Education building at 337 W. 17th Ave. plus four satellite facilities. Working plans are expected to come for approval to the Ohio State University Board of Trustees during winter quarter.

Completion of the satellite installations is expected late next year, while the main building is slated to be finished during the summer of 1977.

Three of the four satellite facilities will include small recreational buildings, to be built on north campus at Neil and Lane Aves., on south campus at Highland and 11th Aves., and on West Campus south of the intersection of Kenny and Carmack Rds. Football and softball fields only will be constructed across the Olentangy River from the Tower dormitories, on Coffey Rd. between the river footbridge and Stadium Drive. Sites are indicated on the campus map above.

Ohio State President Harold L. Enarson reported funding for the complex as complete Oct. 4. The Ohio General Assembly appropriated $5 million for the center, and the university took on the task of raising the remaining funds from private sources.

Largest private donor was the Benedum Foundation, Pittsburgh, which contributed $1 million as a challenge gift in 1971. From athletic revenues, the Athletic Department gave $50,000 and will fund a $680,000 diving pool to supplement expanded swimming facilities. Alumnus Jack Nicklaus served as national campaign chairman for the fund drive, and Columbus businessman John F. Havens was leadership gifts chairman.

At the Oct. 4 trustees' meeting, Frederic Beekman, director of university recreation and intramural sports, pointed out the need for the expansion of existing sports facilities by citing some statistics of student programs and participation levels in those programs.

"Last year, we had some 18,000 men and women students participating in intramural sports alone . . . 18,000 different students," Beekman told the trustees. "If you include faculty, staff members and their families who use the existing facilities that number jumps to 34,000."

"In basketball, for example, we had 600 men's teams last winter quarter, 65 women's teams and had to turn away more than 150 teams."

"The recreational basketball program last year used up nearly every available bit of time we had," Beekman continued. "We ran those games until midnight, seven days a week, meaning there were only about four free hours during the week when someone could just shoot baskets if he wanted to."

With the university's variety of swimming programs, both physical education and extracurricular, the Natatorium pool has been kept scheduled from 6 a.m. to midnight, leaving only about eight hours of recreational swimming time in the week, Beekman said.

"And handball—just ask any player on campus. Six courts just don't go very far for all those that want to play," he said. Handball courts are usually claimed each day in a ten-minute morning rush as soon as the scheduling office opens, he explained.

Twenty additional handball courts planned for inclusion in the additions to the main building should help ease that supply-and-demand squeeze somewhat. Other features of the main center are to include a 50-meter swimming pool, a diving tank, a gym with seating that can serve as two basketball courts when the seats are removed, a gymnastics area, three intramural gyms, men's and women's conditioning areas, classrooms, offices, multipurpose rooms and a new training area for self-defense groups.

OHIO STATE SONGS

ACROSS THE FIELD

Fight that team across the field,
Show them Ohio's here,
Set the earth reverberating with a mighty cheer
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hit them hard and see how they fall;
Never let that team get the ball,
Hail! Hail! the gang's all here,
So let's win that old conference now.

CARMEN OHIO

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship O-hi-o.

BUCKEYE BATTLE CRY

In old Ohio there's a team,
That's known thru-out the land;
Eleven warriors, brave and bold,
Whose fame will ever stand,
And when the ball goes over,
Our cheers will reach the sky,
Ohio Field will hear again

The Buckeye Battle Cry —
Drive! Drive on down the field,
Men of the scarlet and gray;
Don't let them thru that line,
We have to win this game today,
Come on, Ohio!
Smash thru to victory
We cheer you as we go:
Our honor defend
So we'll fight to the end for O Hi o.
